Dark and winey, this structured offering packs red and black currant paste flavors together with threads of charcoal, warm stone, bay leaf and savory, ending with a long tug of cast iron through the finish. A blue chip for cellaring. Grenache, Mourvèdre, Syrah and Cinsault. Drink now through 2035. 3,750 cases made, 930 cases imported. — JM Issue: Dec 15, 2021

AOP Gigondas, rouge, Château de Saint-Cosme, 2019 - Rating : 93-95

"Starting off the 2019 barrel samples, the 2019 Gigondas reveals a deeper ruby/plum color to go with a rich, powerful, medium to full-bodied and concentrated style that carries lots of classic dark fruits, ground pepper, and scorched earth-like aromas and flavors. This rich, dense 2019 will reward 3-5 years of bottle age and have two decades of prime drinking." TASTING DATE 10/6/2020

Château de Saint Cosme Gigondas 2019 Rating: 93

I thought the 2019 Gigondas was gorgeous, with a rich, medium to full-bodied, concentrated style as well as classic Saint Cosme ground pepper, mineral, cured meats, and assorted red and black fruits. It's a powerful, concentrated base cuvée with the mid-palate and structure to evolve for 15-20 years. TASTING DATE 1/25/2022

Chateau de St-Cosme 2019 Gigondas 17+

70% Grenache, 15% Mourvèdre, 14% Syrah, 1% Cinsault. Organic. Aged 20% in new oak, 50% in used oak of different ages and 30% in concrete tank. Cask sample.

Tasted blind. A very elegant palate that is dominated by extremely fine, detailed and precise tannins. Dark fruit with a fig note and plenty of spiced black pepper and a dense mouthfeel. This is a wine about depth, texture and dimension over fruit character. (AC)
